

back off

now and then I meet a human sneaking into my mind, it has me fuming catching me unaware, suddenly being there taking when I won't give and not seeming to care I used to be too kind, too slow too stupid to address the problem arising out of their harass but now I go back off, I'm way too strong for you back off, I won't let you do, what you do back off, course I'm not in the mood to play along when your rules are all wrong no, I won't back off so you better get into the mood Tt play along or you'll be gone

I learned to accept people as they are I only get uncomfortable when they go way too far do what you want with your own life but don't come to me to interfere with my drive this song is my way to tell you politely to stay the fuck away
