

to feel fine

this is nothing but a great day the sun is shining my way and I sit here and I feel fine I just sit here to feel fine

I breathe in the air of the morning light I feel warm, fuzzy and a sudden delight course I can sit and feel fine I can just sit here to feel fine burning out course I'm running around is really not what I want this day to be about

I'd rather just sit here I'd rather just sit here and feel fine
I'd rather just sit here I'd rather just sit here to feel fine there is nowhere I gotta be today 'course I have put nothing in my own sweet way so I can sit here and I feel fine I can sit here to feel fine it's now that I realize running around is really not what I want this day to be about I'd rather sit here and feel fine I'd rather sit here to feel fine burning out course I'm running around...

they suck you into their monstrous game of running wild in search of their idiotic fame but I'd rather just sit here and feel fine, fine, fine burning out course I'm running around...
