

a million years

I used to be shy you used to say what I should and could and would it put me down on my knee saying sorry for why I shouldn't, couldn't, wouldn't but what you wanted me to do I wouldn't wanna do in a Million Years

Now and here is the time to stop running my life the way you want me to now and here is the last time that I apologize the way you want me to course what you wanted me to do

I wouldn't wanna do in a Million Years

I'm sorry that I broke some hearts having fun with brand new starts I'm sorry that I am too smart for your terrific chart I'm sorry that I live my life my way digging deep with my hungry eye this new way to life where I won't take more than I give is making me feel good course I know now it's all I should still what I'd like to say and I do hope that it's ok course I put it into this song you better listen course it's not for too long
