

i feel alive

I wanna tell you something straight up before we start no hidden message here, no rhyme, no poetry here are just words and soul

I wanna be honest with you I lay myself in your hands
I trust that you acknowledge what I say course it's the truth and the truth is always worth saying out aloud

I love to cry and I love to laugh
I love to smile and I love a good frown
I love it deep and I love it light but I especially love it when I loose all sight course as long as it is intense
I feel alive

I've been there
I've seen the darkest side of me
It wasn't pretty and it wasn't nice but I let it out and I'm glad I did course the light can only shine when the darkness was all around I let myself be all consumed my god, I dived right into it and I'm so glad I did
